

Jacquelyn-Danielle McNutt

Jacquelyn-Danielle is currently Executive Director of the Center for Paper Business and Industry Studies (CPBIS) ~ a Sloan Foundation Industry Center hosted by Georgia Tech. She was formerly President and CEO of Jaakko Poyry Consulting, North America. Jacquie also serves ForestWeb, Inc. as its Senior Advisor and Head, Board of Advisors and is on the Board of Directors for the Paper Industry Management Association (PIMA) and the Governing Board of Directors for the World Forestry Center (WFC). In addition she runs her own Management Consulting business ~ Degrees of Excellence ~ and is affiliated with The Sinclair Group out of The Woodland's, Texas.

Jacquelyn has extensive international forest products and fiber management, marketing, business development, and consulting experience. During her ten-year leadership role at Jaakko Pöyry Consulting, she focused on guiding the delivery of the firm's multi-faceted service platform to clients around the world. She also previously served in executive positions at Georgia-Pacific/ Great Northern Nekoosa, Jefferson Smurfit/ Container Corporation of America, and Potlatch, as well as in forest products and management sciences related academic positions at the University of Washington and Oregon State University.

Dr. McNutt has a comprehensive educational background, which includes a B.S. in Industrial Engineering from the University of Wyoming and a joint MBA/M.S. in Managerial Sciences and Forestry and a PhD in Forest Managerial Science from William and Mary and Oregon State University respectively.