SENIOR SEMINAR
IN ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

David A. Sonnenfeld, Ph.D., Instructor
Dept. of Environmental Studies
SUNY-ESF, Syracuse

Spring 2018, M 4-6 pm (every other week), Bray 313

DESCRIPTION

Overview

This course provides an organized context for Environmental Studies majors to effectively (plan, implement and) professionally communicate about their Senior Synthesis Projects. Students begin the course with Synthesis Projects in every stage of development, from beginning thoughts to fully completed. The course meets for two hours, every other week, and culminates in the 5th annual Environmental Studies Seniors Showcase, on April 2. A juried event, the Showcase is open to faculty, students and the general public – family and friends welcome! As an additional course feature, students gain knowledge, skills and resources to assist in the transition from college to professional life. This is accomplished through interaction with guest speakers, participation in the ESF Career Fair, and other activities. The course is intended for Environmental Studies majors graduating in May or December 2018.

Objectives

By completion of this course, each student should be able to:

- Effectively plan, implement and professionally communicate about her/ his Senior Synthesis Project, both orally and in research poster form;

Accommodations
SUNY-ESF works closely with the Office of Disability Services (ODS) at Syracuse University in assisting students with learning and physical disabilities. If you think you may need accommodations in this course related to a disability, you may contact the ESF Office of Student Affairs, 110 Bray Hall, tel. 315.470.6660, for assistance with the process. You may also contact ODS directly, Room 309 of 804 University Avenue, 315.443.4498, to schedule an appointment to discuss your needs and the process for requesting accommodations. ODS is responsible for coordinating disability-related accommodations and will issue students with documented disabilities Accommodation Authorization Letters, as appropriate. Since accommodations may require early planning and generally are not provided retroactively, please contact ODS as soon as possible. To learn more about ODS, visit http://disabilityservices.syr.edu.

Fire alarm procedures
If a fire alarm sounds, exit the building immediately to the designated area for this course. Stay together as a class, until released. Take all personal belongings with you, including electronics, backpacks, coats and keys. Please let your instructor know in advance if you might have any special needs in case of a building evacuation. For further information, contact the Office of Student Affairs, tel. 315.470.6660.
