Take the First Step

The SUNY College of Environmental Science and Forestry (ESF) offers a comprehensive financial aid program consisting of merit scholarships and a full range of need-based grants, loans, and campus employment programs that provide assistance to ESF students and families. More than 85 percent of ESF full-time undergraduate students receive some type of financial assistance each year. Last year, ESF undergraduates received more than $18 million from all sources, including more than $7 million in scholarships and grants. The College will make a similar investment in the quality education you are looking for.

Merit Scholarships

Merit scholarships at ESF are awarded in recognition of outstanding academic and extracurricular achievements, regardless of a student’s financial need. These scholarships are most often awarded based on a review of information already provided to ESF’s Office of Undergraduate Admissions as part of the admission process. A separate application is not required for most merit scholarships.

Some students who are awarded merit scholarships choose not to apply for need-based financial aid. Many others receive merit scholarships as part of a comprehensive financial aid award that may also include ESF need-based grants, federal- or state-sponsored grants, loans, or employment opportunities.

Need-Based Financial Aid

Need-based financial aid is awarded to students who demonstrate financial need. The information that your family provides on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is used to calculate an expected family contribution toward educational expenses, based on a government-approved formula. If your expected family contribution is less than the total cost of an ESF education (tuition, fees, room and board, and allowances for books, supplies, transportation, and personal expenses), you have demonstrated financial need. The Office of Financial Aid and Scholarships will determine your eligibility for ESF, federal, state and other financial aid programs based on financial need.

Applying for Need-Based Financial Aid

At ESF, new students complete only the FAFSA to apply for need-based financial aid. You automatically will be considered for all need-based financial aid programs provided by ESF, as well as federal and state financial aid programs, after filing the FAFSA and having the results sent to ESF. You should complete the FAFSA online at: www.fafsa.gov.

Here is how to apply:

- Obtain a Personal Identification Number (PIN). The PIN is your federal electronic signature for completing the FAFSA online. Simply log onto www.pin.ed.gov and request a PIN. In most cases, your parent will also need to obtain a PIN and sign your FAFSA.

- Complete the FAFSA between January 1 and March 1 and submit it to the federal processor. You may complete the FAFSA online at www.fafsa.gov. Have results sent to ESF by including our federal school code, which is 002851.

The federal processor will calculate your Expected Family Contribution (EFC) and send you a Student Aid Report (SAR) within two to four weeks after you submit the FAFSA. The SAR will report your EFC amount, as calculated by the federal formula. Review your SAR for any corrections you need to submit to the federal processor, especially after you have filed your federal tax returns.

If you are a resident of New York State, you should also apply for the New York State Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) by completing the TAP application online using the FAFSA on the Web link to TAP. If you are not a resident of New York State, check with your state scholarship agency to see if you can use your state grant at ESF.

ESF’s priority deadline for financial aid consideration for entering freshmen is March 1. The priority deadline for transfer students is also March 1. Filing your FAFSA by the priority deadline will allow us to provide you with a financial aid award in advance of your admission deposit deadline.

Your Financial Aid Award

Your financial aid award may contain a combination of several types of aid from the federal government, state government, and ESF. The scholarship and financial aid programs used most often at ESF are outlined in charts on pages 4–5 of this publication.
Basic Steps for First-Time Applicants

Apply for admission. You should start your application for admission early in your senior year. ESF will not offer you a financial aid award until you have been admitted.

Complete the FAFSA – between January 1 and March 1 and submit it to the federal processor. You may complete the FAFSA online at www.fafsa.gov. Have results sent to ESF by including our federal school code, which is 002851.

Watch for your Student Aid Report (SAR). Your SAR will be sent electronically if a valid e-mail address is provided on the FAFSA. If no e-mail address is provided, the SAR will be mailed to the provided postal address.

Apply for state scholarships and grants. Check with your state scholarship agency for application information and forms. Research other sources of aid. Use free, reputable sources of information on private scholarships. We provide links to the major sources directly from our website at: www.esf.edu/financialaid.

What Does It Cost to Attend ESF?

Each year we develop estimated expense budgets for students at ESF. Tuition and fees are generally consistent from student to student, but total expenses may vary depending upon such factors as housing and meal plans. Financial aid awards take these estimated costs into consideration in addition to tuition, fees, and room and board, so that your aid award more accurately reflects all costs associated with your attendance.

Estimated annual charges for full-time resident students attending ESF in 2014-15 (two semesters) are listed below. Charges for 2015-16 will be announced in the spring of 2015.

Merit Scholarship Programs

General Guidelines

Merit scholarships at ESF are awarded in recognition of outstanding academic and extracurricular achievements, regardless of financial need. Some students who are awarded merit scholarships choose not to apply for need-based financial aid, or do not qualify for that type of aid. Other students receive merit scholarships as part of a financial aid award.

General guidelines pertaining to merit scholarships at ESF include the following:

- All admission application files are reviewed by the Undergraduate Admissions Office to determine each student’s eligibility for ESF merit scholarships.
- Students who meet the eligibility requirements for more than one merit scholarship will be selected to receive only the highest valued scholarship of those available.
- All ESF merit scholarships are renewable at the same monetary level, contingent upon the student maintaining a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or higher (measured at the end of each academic year), along with any additional requirements outlined at the time the award is made.
- Entering students selected to receive an ESF merit scholarship will be mailed a notification letter specifying the scholarship amount and renewal requirements.

Presidential Scholarships

High school seniors with outstanding academic credentials can receive merit scholarships through ESF’s Presidential Scholarship Program. ESF will award Presidential Scholarships to more than 100 entering freshman applicants this year. In order to be considered for a Presidential Scholarship, students must submit the ESF Admissions Application, as well as their secondary school transcripts showing grades, rank in class and SAT or ACT scores no later than February 1, 2015. Applications received by this date will be reviewed by our Presidential Scholarship Selection Committee to identify candidates who have achieved:

- a score of 1200 or higher on the combined reading plus mathematics sections of the SAT (or ACT composite 27), combined with a high school grade average of 90 (A-) or higher.

Each student who meets these initial review criteria will be given further consideration for a Presidential Scholarship (an award is not guaranteed). Presidential Scholarships may provide up to $3,000 per year for New York State residents or up to $8,000 per year for out-of-state residents. Determination of the specific scholarship amount will be based upon the student’s academic record, recommendations, activities, and requirements for their intended major.

ESF National Scholarships

These scholarships are awarded to outstanding students from outside NY State and are worth up to $8,000 per year based on academic merit and financial need.

Transfer Scholarships

Many transfer students qualify for Phi Theta Kappa Scholarships at ESF. These are valued at $1,500 per year and may be combined with other aid. Proof of PTK honor society membership must be provided along with ESF’s application for admission.

Transfer applicants who have earned a college grade point average of 3.50 or higher will be considered for ESF Presidential Scholarships of up to $3,000 per year for New York State residents or up to $8,000 per year for out-of-state residents.

National Scholarship Competitions

The Scholarship Selection Committee will give special consideration to students who have been recognized by the following scholarship programs:

- National Merit Scholarship Program
- National Achievement Scholarship Program
- National Hispanic Scholars Program

ESF automatically will award Presidential Scholarships with a value of up to $8,000 to students who have been recognized as semi-finalists or finalists in any of these national scholarship competitions.

Haudenosaunee Scholar Awards

This prestigious four-year scholarship provides $5,000 per year for two Haudenosaunee students. Scholarship eligibility also requires student citizenship in one of the historic Haudenosaunee nations. Please contact the Undergraduate Admissions Office for additional information.

Legacy Scholarships

ESF awards Legacy Scholarships to incoming freshmen and transfer students who are the children or grandchildren of ESF alumni. Eligible students receive Legacy Scholarships worth $250 per semester for up to ten semesters of full-time undergraduate study. Applicants must indicate their alumni connection by completing the alumni question found in the College’s application for admission. Up to five Legacy Scholarship winners are selected each year.

Paper Science and Engineering Scholarships

Scholarships from the Syracuse Pulp and Paper Foundation, Inc. are awarded to undergraduate students majoring in paper science or paper engineering. Students should contact the Office of Financial Aid and Scholarships for details.

Raise.Me Scholarships

ESF offers “micro-scholarships” to high school student for specific activities and achievements. Please see https://raise.me for details.

Other Merit Scholarships

ESF offers several merit-based scholarship programs in addition to those described here. Information can be found on the Financial Aid website at: www.esf.edu/financialaid.

The term “Full-Time Undergraduate Student” in this chart means one taking at least 12 credit hours per semester in a degree/certificate program. “Three-Quarter-Time Undergraduate Student” means one taking at least 9 credit hours per semester in a degree/certificate program. Graduate students not holding an assistantship are considered full-time if registered for 12 credit hours each semester. Graduate students holding an assistantship and/or tuition scholarship are full-time if registered for 9 credit hours each semester. Chart information is accurate as of 10/1/14.
Additional College Financing Options

There are several loan programs, employment programs, and payment plans available to assist families in meeting their expected family contribution. The programs listed below are available to students or parents without regard to financial need.

Interest-Free Payment Plan

This plan helps you spread your expected family payments over an 8-month period with no interest charge. See www.esf.edu/bursar for information.

Federal Direct Loan

The Federal Direct Loan program is the most widely used student loan program, and it includes an “unsubsidized” Direct Loan program. In this program, students who do not qualify (based on need) to have the government pay loan interest while they are enrolled in college may choose to borrow an unsubsidized Direct Loan and pay the interest due during that period themselves. Interest payments may be deferred until loan repayment begins. This means that any ESF student enrolled at least half-time may borrow up to the maximum loan amount at an interest rate no higher than 6.21 percent for the current academic year. Depending on financial need, interest accrued during the period of enrollment may be subsidized (paid by the government) or unsubsidized.

Independent students may add unsubsidized interest loans of $4,000 to $5,000 in addition to their normal Direct Loan amounts (resulting in a maximum $12,500 eligibility for third-, fourth- and fifth-year undergraduate students).

Federal Direct PLUS Loan

Perhaps the most popular aid program used to finance the family contribution is the Federal Direct PLUS Loan. This is a federally guaranteed loan that helps parents of dependent undergraduate students finance educational costs. Graduate students may also apply for the Direct PLUS loan on their own behalf. A borrower may request up to the full cost of education minus other financial aid awarded. PLUS loans have a fixed interest rate. The current fixed rate is 7.21 percent.

ESF Student Employment

This program is similar to the Federal Work-Study Program but does not take financial need into consideration. Students are employed on or off campus and earn wages that may be used to meet educational expenses. Employment is coordinated through ESF’s Office of Financial Aid and Scholarships.

Alternative Educational Loans

Alternative educational loans are private (non-federal) loans offered through lenders to supplement financial aid awards. We encourage students and families to use alternative loans as a last option after first pursuing all federal loan options. For additional information on alternative loans, see the Office of Financial Aid website at: www.esf.edu/financialaid

New York State TAP Grants

The Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) available to many New York State resident students is among the most generous college grant programs in the nation. Estimated 2014-15 freshman awards for a family of four with one child in college are listed below. (1)

(1) TAP awards for independent students (not dependent on parental income) are different. Contact the ESF Office of Financial Aid and Scholarships for details.

(2) Estimates used for NYS net taxable income have been calculated by subtracting a standard $15,400 married couple deduction and $1,000 for each dependent child from the federal AGI. The state will subtract an additional $3,000 from NYS net figure if two family members attend college full-time, and an additional $2,000 per student if more than two family members attend full-time.

(3) TAP awards for students who have previously received TAP are different. Contact the ESF Office of Financial Aid and Scholarships for details.

Independent Student Eligibility Criteria

Students often ask us if they are eligible to be considered independent of their parents for financial aid purposes. For federal aid programs, a student must meet one or more of the following criteria to be considered independent for the 2015–16 academic year:

- Born before January 1, 1992
- Orphan or ward of the court
- Veteran of U.S. Armed Forces
- Graduate or professional school student
- Married student
- Student with legal dependents other than a spouse
- Person who in the judgment of a college financial aid officer warrants independent status based on unusual circumstances
- Homeless youth
- Serving on active duty in the Armed Forces
- Emancipated minor

For the purposes of receiving aid from New York State-sponsored programs (including TAP), students who are younger than 35 years of age must meet a set of criteria that differ from the federal criteria.

Students should be aware that there are many different regulations governing aid for independent versus dependent undergraduates. Many students, depending on individual circumstances, will actually qualify for more aid if they are dependent.

Tax Benefits Help with College Expenses

There are significant tax benefits for families of college students. The American Opportunity Credit is a federal tax credit for a maximum of $2,500 per student per year. The Lifetime Learning tax credit covers up to $2,000 of qualified tuition expenses per year (see www.irs.gov for eligibility).

New York State residents can take a tax credit or itemized deduction for allowable college tuition expenses (see www.tax.ny.gov for eligibility).

The State has also created the New York 529 College Savings Plan, which provides New York residents annual tax-exempt contributions to the plan of up to $5,000 per contributor.

Contact the ESF Office of Financial Aid and Scholarships for details.
Frequently Asked Questions

Q: We’ve been told we probably will not qualify for aid. Should we bother to apply?

Yes, you should! Many factors are taken into consideration in determining a family’s financial need, and each family’s circumstances are unique, so you can’t know what you’ll qualify for without completing the aid application process. There is no arbitrary cut-off for determining a family’s eligibility for financial aid. The income range of those eligible for assistance covers a wide range.

Q: When should I apply for aid?

File your FAFSA application as soon as possible after January 1 if you plan to enroll at ESF during the period between June 2015 and March 2016. It is very important that you apply no later than March 1, 2015, if you are a freshman applicant planning to enroll in September. Transfer students should also apply by March 1.

Q: Do “Early Decision” admissions applicants use an earlier financial aid process?

No. Early Decision candidates who file the FAFSA application by March 1 will receive award notifications before their enrollment deposit is due.

Q: Will I be eligible for the same amount of financial aid each year?

In most cases, the answer is yes, but not in every case. Every effort will be made to continue a similar level of institutional gift aid each year. Students receiving merit scholarships do not need to reapply to renew those scholarships. Merit scholarships automatically will be renewed at the same level, as long as the renewal requirements are met.

Students must reapply for need-based financial aid each year. Assuming you remain in good academic standing, file the application forms by the recommended deadline and demonstrate a similar level of need, you can expect approximately the same level of institutional gift aid each year. Examples of circumstances that might cause a change in a need-based financial aid award could include, but are not limited to:

- a significant rise or drop in family income
- a reduction in room and meal plan expenses for students living off-campus
- more or fewer siblings in college at the same time you are attending ESF
- more or fewer family members living at home.

Q: Are all families expected to contribute toward educational expenses?

If the student is dependent upon his or her parents for support, then the expected family contribution will include amounts from both the student and parents based on their respective incomes and assets. The contribution for students who are financially independent of their parents is based on the student’s income and assets, as well as on those of the student’s spouse if married.

Q: What happens if our financial need changes after I enter college?

While many families’ financial needs remain constant while a student is attending college, some families will experience significant changes in their ability to contribute to their children’s education. Sometimes these changes can even occur during the middle of an academic year. We are always willing to review financial aid appeals from families experiencing difficulties due to significant changes in their circumstances.

Q: What is an EFC?

EFC stands for Expected Family Contribution. This is used by all colleges and universities to determine a student’s eligibility for federal financial aid programs. The EFC is calculated by the federal government’s processor, based on the information you provide on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), using a formula known as the federal methodology. Your EFC will be the same at all colleges that receive results from your FAFSA. You can estimate your EFC by using a calculator provided by FinAid! The SmartStudent Guide to Student Financial Aid at www.finaid.org

Q: I have just been notified that I will receive a scholarship from my high school. How will this scholarship affect my financial aid?

We encourage students to apply for scholarships awarded by private organizations. If we are required to amend the financial aid award as a result of receiving an “outside scholarship,” we will make every effort to reduce the student’s loan and/or Federal Work-Study award before reducing any ESF grants. You can find links to many sources of free and reputable information concerning outside scholarships on our website at www.esf.edu/financialaid

Q: Can I get an estimate of my college costs before I apply for admission?

Colleges are required to provide a “net price calculator” on their website to provide estimated financial aid and cost information based on institutional data for enrolled students. You can find our calculator at www.esf.edu/financialaid
How The Award Process Works

Once the College has received the FAFSA results from the federal government’s processor, we review the information to arrive at your Expected Family Contribution (EFC). We then subtract the EFC from the appropriate educational expense budget to arrive at the student’s need (example: $24,258 Cost - $5,000 EFC = $19,258 Need).

Need determines how much aid a student may receive during a given year. To meet this need, the aid officer uses various aid resources to “package” a student. Pell and TAP grants are the first resources used. After that, if there is still a need, the campus-based programs (Perkins, FSEOG, FWSP, EOP, etc.) and SUNY-ESF scholarships or grants are used to meet need. Award notifications are mailed to the student’s email address. Students should read this carefully and follow instructions to accept the award.

Students who do not show a need for aid are informed of this decision. Parents may wish to obtain a Direct PLUS Loan, or participate in our monthly Payment Plan. Students who do not qualify for need-based aid programs will be notified if they are qualified for merit-based academic scholarships.

Named Scholarships

As part of ESF’s comprehensive financial aid program, students receive awards from over 150 “named” scholarship programs made possible through the generosity of individuals and organizations. Named scholarships may include need-based or merit-based awards. The majority of these scholarships are awarded by the Office of Financial Aid and Scholarships to students who meet eligibility criteria when they apply for financial aid. No separate application is required. Some scholarships are awarded to currently enrolled students by other ESF departments. A complete list of scholarship programs is available at www.esf.edu/financialaid.

ESF Students Say...

In a 2012 survey of more than 24,000 undergraduate students from 27 different campuses in the State University of New York (SUNY) system:

- ESF ranked 2nd for student satisfaction with financial aid services
- ESF ranked 3rd for assistance in finding part-time jobs for students
- ESF ranked 1st in educational quality and had the highest “value” rating in SUNY.
