Did you know April 22nd is a very important day? It’s Earth Day, so come celebrate it the AIC way!

Find out the significance of one tiny seed
As we read
And explore
What happened to the Truffula trees

Why, you don’t know what a Truffula tree is?
They’re from the curious world of Dr. Suess,
It’s a story of responsibility and, perhaps, misuse

You’ll be the judge as we put the Onceler to trial
He’ll be proven innocent or guilty
Depending on the case you compile

We’ll also get outside and get to know our neighbors
The ones with branches and leaves that are green
The Maples, the Beeches, the Pines, the Firs
The Spruces, the Birches and others in between

There’s no need to rush - it’s an overnight you see
So we’ll have plenty of time
And the best part is
It won’t cost you a dime!
Speak For the Trees!
April 22nd - 23rd

A Lorax-Themed Event for Homeschool Students and their Families

Free Overnight Program at the Adirondack Interpretive Center

An Earth Day Celebration Exploring Forest Ecology, Conservation and Environmental Ethics

All Grade Levels Welcome!

Hands-on, Interdisciplinary Programming Led By AIC Staff

Meals and Overnight Lodging Provided Onsite

The Adirondack Interpretive Center (AIC) is the public outreach facility at SUNY-ESF’s Newcomb Campus. 518.582.2000  aic@esf.edu  www.esf.edu/aic 5922 State Route 28N, Newcomb NY

Funding for this program was provided through a mini-grant program obtained by the Adirondack Park Institute, a not-for-profit dedicated to supporting educational programming at the AIC.