

Teach-In for an Equitable and Just Campus Supported by the Office of Inclusion, Diversity, and Equity

All campus affiliates (students, faculty, administration and staff) are welcome and encouraged to attend these events. You can let us know which events you will attend by completing this form (<https://forms.gle/cdnMxuijfA7c1v1e9>), and we will keep you updated on events. Additionally, the campus calendar will be updated with topics, locations, and participants.

Like the teach-ins and sit-ins from the middle of the last century, ESF can support opportunities for students to learn and engage with social justice, equity, inclusivity and diversity. We are taking inspiration from the first Earth Day in 1970, which was developed as a teach-in and included opportunities to leverage campus and community expertise. By following this model, as well as other actions, we can support the development and sustainability of an equitable and just campus.

Faculty and administrators can show support to students that recent racist and biased events on the SU campus are intolerable. Further, we can show our students that the campus as a whole is invested in creating, teaching, and promoting a more just and equitable teaching space.

Below is a series of events that interrupts our daily tasks and demonstrates we have no tolerance for the aggressive and harmful acts recently conducted on the SU campus. Each event below will be followed by a walk to Barnes to relieve the sit-in participants and show our support.
