2. Proposer Need Statement:

2.1 Describe why this course (or course revision) is needed to meet current or proposed goals and outcomes of the program or College, and, if a revision, provide an explanation of and justification for the revision.

This is a required course for the new online B.S. in Sustainability Management. This course serves as an introduction to sustainable development. The major focus of the course will be the relationship among economic, social, and environmental development. It will examine the basic tenets of sustainable development and, through the use of case studies and readings, introduce students to the problems and opportunities that the inclusion of sustainability into the planning process presents.

2.2 List the pre-requisite or co-requisite courses (taught within the home department or taught by another department) and explain their relationship to the proposed course.

None.

2.3 Explain the impact of this course in meeting the goals and outcomes of other Departments/programs (if any).

This course was designed to meet the goals and outcomes of the online Sustainability Management B.S. Due to the course existing primarily for online students, we do not expect enrollment from other departments or programs.

2.4 If the proposed course is designed to fulfill SUNY General Education Requirements, the Associate Provost for Instruction must review this proposal to ensure that General Education Requirements will be met for the specified knowledge area (See Instructions and Guidance).

Please provide an explanation of how this course fulfills SUNY General Education Requirements.

N/A

2.5 What are the staffing requirements (instructor, TA, Lab tech, etc.) for this course? If a new course, are there new staffing needs or are there adequate staff members already in place? If a revised course, are there additional staffing needs?

All required staffing is in place.

2.6 What Department (or extra-Department) resources are or will be made available to support the course or course revision?

ESF Open Academy staffing, supplemented by a SUNY Performance Improvement Fund award, are and will be available to support course.

      If Yes, what is the course number of the concurrent offering?

3.3 STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES:

   Identify the student learning outcomes associated with this course.

   Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

   1. Explain the interactions between key concepts in sustainable development, including the interplay of environmental, economic, and social factors in determining outcomes.

   2. Compare and contrast various economic approaches and their relation to sustainable development.

   3. Explain the role of systems analysis to the understanding of sustainable solutions.
4. Explain the UN Sustainable Development Goals and their importance for merging private sector and government entities in development activities

3.4 MAJOR CONCEPTS, PROCESSES or TOOLS:

Identify the course content and themes (e.g. Table of Contents) consistent with the learning domains and outcomes.

The major concepts for the course are as follows:
1. Background and definitions
2. Drivers of development
3. Economic and system analysis approaches to development
4. The role of the private sector, government, and NGO's in reaching sustainable solutions
5. Barriers to implementation of sustainable alternatives
6. International efforts to incorporate sustainability into projects, The UN's Sustainable Development Goals
7. Case studies and the implementation of sustainable development goals, examples of best practices
8. Critiques of sustainable development
9. Course wrap up and project evaluations

3.5 INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS:

Identify the methods used to meet the course outcomes, as well as the principal instructional methods.

This course will engage students in regular and substantive interaction among and between students and the instructor. This course is constructed on a weekly module basis that includes learning materials, learning activities, substantive interactions, and assessment and evaluation. Overall student course expectations include active and timely engagement with course materials and participation in all course learning activities each week. In each module, students will:

- Read and, in some cases, view course materials and resources (e.g., books, reports, articles, multimedia, videos);
- Write, e.g., discussion board / threaded discussion participation, reflection/reaction statements, position papers, analysis reports, journals or blog posts, reading summaries, case study assignments);
- Complete ungraded and graded assignments, e.g., problem sets, quizzes, exams, presentations, policy briefs, self-assessments, values clarification exercises, field work reports, project reports;
- Work individually and collaborate in small groups; and
- Communicate with the instructor and fellow students, sharing their perspective and providing constructive feedback through peer interaction and feedback.

There will be a cumulative project that will be worked on by students throughout the semester in addition to the methods listed above.

The delivery of this course will take place primarily through the Blackboard learning management system.
3.6 CATALOG DESCRIPTION

Provide the course description using the precise format to be included in the ESF catalog (i.e. course number and title; format; brief description; semester(s) offered; and pre-/co-requisites). Please do not exceed 1000 characters.
