

EST 361: Five Tips for Getting the Most from this Course

1. Attend class regularly; take good notes on course lectures and films/ videos.
2. Participate actively in class discussions and debates.
3. Do all of the required reading, from cover to cover; take comprehensive notes while reading. Keep up with reading assignments; don't leave them for the last minute.
4. Refer to both reading and class notes while doing course writing assignments.
5. Strive to understand underlying dynamics (not only epiphenomena) in the history of the American environmental movement; discuss your take on these dynamics with others.
