Proceedings of the 2004 Northeastern Recreation Research Symposium

March 31 – April 2, 2004

THE SAGAMORE
On Lake George in Bolton Landing, New York

Compiled and Edited by:
Kelly Bricker
Sarah J. Millington
West Virginia University

Sponsors:
Adirondack Mountain
ClubVenture Publishing
USDA Forest Service, Northeastern Research Station

Published by:
USDA Forest Service, Northeastern Research Station
Contents

KEYNOTE ADDRESS
A Restorative Definition for Outdoor Recreation ............................................. 1
William E. Hammitt

FOUNDERS FORUM
Social Change and Post Utilitarian Resource Management:
Adaptation or Transformation? ................................................................. 6
Walter Kuertz

PLACE ATTACHMENT
Spatial Variation in Level of Place Attachment ............................................. 14
Gerard Kyle, Alan Graefe, Robert Manning
Creating Defensible Space in the Wildland-urban Interface: The Role of Basic Beliefs about Forest and Wildfire Management ..................................................... 20
Alan D. Bright, Randall T. Bartz
Stress and Coping in the High Peaks Wilderness: An Exploratory Assessment of Visitor
Experiences ............................................................................................... 29
John G. Peden, Rudolph M. Schuster
Campers Across the Recreation Opportunity Spectrum: A Comparative Examination...... 39
Drew A. Cavin, Jenny K. Cavin, Gerard Kyle, James Absher
Florida Resident's Familiarity with Korea: Do More Familiar Residents Have More
Positive Images? .................................................................................... 46
Jung Eun Kim, Lori Pennington-Grey
The Way the World Should Be: Order, Cleanness, and Serenity in the Experience of Special Places ............................................................................................ 52
Herbert W. Schroeder
"They All Cared about the Forest": Elementary School Children's Experiences of the Loss of a Wooded Play Space at a Private School in Upstate New York .................. 57
Clifford Blizard, Rudolph Schuster, Jr.

DIVERSE POPULATIONS
An Exploration of the Relationship between Puerto Rican Values and the Perception of Benefits and Park Use ............................................................................. 66
Edwin Gómez
Constraints to Recreational Fishing: Concepts and Questions to Understand
Underrepresented Angling Groups ............................................................. 70
Laura E. Anderson, David K. Loomis, Ronald J. Salz
Race, Ethnicity, and Information Use Related to Natural Resource Recreation ............ 75
Sungsoo Kim, Lorraine Nicholas, Gloria Sanders, Myron Floyd, Injje Lee
American Indian Gathering and Recreation Uses of National Forests ..................... 81
Leo McAvoy, Paul Shirilla, Joseph Flood
TOURISM ECONOMICS
How to Handle High Proportion of Zero Observations in the Cross-section Studies: Application to Nonresidential Wildlife Watching Expenditures ........................................... 90
Yeong Nai Chi, Guang-Hwa Andy Chang

Economic Impact of the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore and the Estimation Errors .. 98
Ya-Yen Sun, Daniel Styles

Variations in Economic Multipliers of the Tourism Sector in New Hampshire ................. 102
Joshua Wierma, Doug Morris, Robert Robertson

Challenges of Using Estimations of Economic Impacts for Cultural Tourism ................. 109
Gail A. Vander Stoep

VISITOR MANAGEMENT
State Park Trail Conflicts and Resolution Strategies ......................................................... 120
Charles M. Nelson, Rebecca Jennings, Jennifer Henschell

Factors Affecting Importance Ratings for Private Campground Amenities ..................... 126
Andrew Holdnak, Ellen Drogin Rodgers

Assessment of Recreation Impacts on Wilderness Campsites, Mark Twain National Forest, Missouri ................................................................. 130
Kale Horton, Robert Pawlowski

Recreation Use at Diamond Lake, Oregon: Perceptions of Users’ Recreation Experience between 2001 and 2003................................................................. 139
Robert C. Burns, Alan R. Graefe, Sunny Nam Kil

Albany Pine Bush Preserve: A Case Study Using Concepts from the Limits of Acceptable Change Framework ................................................................. 145
Victoria E. Gray, Chad Dawson

Leave No Trace and National Park Wilderness Areas ...................................................... 152
Carol Griffin

Visitor Perceptions of Intelligent Transportation Systems in a National Park .................. 158
Ginny Ditworth, Scott Shafer

Estimating Visitor Use and Distribution in Two Adirondack Wilderness Areas ............. 164
Nathan E. Peters, Chad P. Dawson

A Case Study Comparison of Visitor Self-reported Travel Routes and GPS Recorded Travel Routes ................................................................. 172
Jeffrey C. Hallo, Robert E. Manning, William Valliere, Megha Budruk

TOURISM DEVELOPMENT
An Exploratory Study of St. Augustine, FL: Heritage Attraction Types .......................... 180
Matt Wagenheim, Lori Pennington-Grey, John Confer

Understanding Angler Preference for Harvest Regulations by Level of Species Preference ............................................................................. 185
Chi-Ok Oh, Robert B. Ditton

Regulations on the Environmental Management of Tourism Development in Yunnan Province, China ................................................................. 192
Eruwei Dong
Perceptions of Haitians Toward Tourism Development in Rural Haiti ............................................. 200
Alain R. Therriul, Amy L. Sheaffer

Examining the Business Tourist ........................................................................................................... 209
Brandi Nice, Lori Pennington-Grey

Myth vs. Fact: An Exploration of Fright Tourism .................................................................................. 215
Robert S. Bristow, Mirela Newman

PERCEPTIONS, PREFERENCES, AND ATTITUDES
The Influence of Distance and Visitor Perceptions of Security on Perceived Management Problems Among New England Anglers ................................................................. 224
Thomas Wickham, Alan Graefe, Robert C. Burns, Thomas Mueller

Comparative Analysis of Visitor Attitudes and Preferences in Three Adirondack Management Areas .......................................................................................................................... 231
Nancy A. Connelly, Chad P. Dawson, Tommy L. Brown

TRENDS
Northeast’s Recreation Trends and Markets – A New Data Source ..................................................... 242
Rodney B. Warnick

Trends in Participation Rates for Wildlife-Associated Recreation by Race/Ethnicity and Gender: 1980–2001 .......................................................................................................................... 251
Allan Marsinko, John Dwyer

Diane M. Kuehn, Frank R. Lichtkoppler, Charles Platia

Emerging Trends in Park and Protected Area Management: A Critical Analysis of the Eastern James Bay Region of Quebec, Canada ....................................................................................... 263
Daniel Laven

VISITOR CHOICE AND RESOURCE ATTRIBUTES
The Impact of Negative Environmental Factors on Recreation Choice Behavior ............................... 272
David B. Klenosky

Examining the Structure of the Leisure Involvement/Place Bonding Relationship in Three Sumter National Forest Camping Areas ....................................................................................... 281
Jenny K. Cavin, Drew A. Cavin, Gerard Kyle, James Absher

Stream Attributes for Selecting Substitutable Fishing Resources ..................................................... 289
William E. Hammitt, Erik A. Backlund, Robert D. Bisler

Explaining Patterns of Choice Among Outdoor Recreation Sites in Metropolitan Areas .. 295
John F. Dwyer, David B. Klenosky, Cherie L. LeBlanc

NORMS AND CARRYING CAPACITY
Determining Acceptable Carrying Capacities for Recreation Use as Identified by Key Stakeholders: A Focus Group Process .......................................................................................... 304
Rob Porter, Michael A. Tarrant

An Ipsative Approach to Norm Crystallization ..................................................................................... 310
James D. Absher, Jerry J. Vaske
SPECIALIZATION AND PARTICIPANT DEVELOPMENT

Constraints to Recreational Fishing: Concepts and Questions to Understand
Underrepresented Angling Groups ................................................................. 316
Laura E. Anderson, David K. Loomis, Ronald J. Salz

Understanding Volunteers' Motivations .................................................. 321
Katerina Papadakis, Tonya Griffin, Joel Frater

Validating Level of Development through Self-assessments of Adventure Recreationists .. 327
Sharon L. Todd, Anderson B. Young, Lynn Anderson, Dale Anderson

PLANNING AND ADMINISTRATION

Using the Case Study Method to Explore the Potentials and Pitfalls of Fast Ferry in Rochester, NY ................................................................................. 336
Joel Frater, Arthur Graham

Anatomy of a Heritage Area Start-up: The Appalachian Forest Heritage Area .......... 343
Steven Selin, Susan Martin, Angela Gernert, David McGill

Survey Techniques for Assessing Public Preferences for Alternate Silvicultural
Treatments in the Adirondacks ............................................................... 350
Donald F. Dennis, Mark J. Twery, Michael A. Rechlin, Bruce Hansen

The Influence of Water Clarity on Recreation and Home Purchasing Decisions on
New Hampshire Lakes .............................................................. 354
Kevin Scribner, John Halstead, Ryan McCarthy, Julie Gibbs

SUBMITTED PAPERS FROM THE POSTER SESSION

The Illinois Department of Natural Resources “Becoming An Outdoors-Woman™
(B.O.W.)” Program: Factors Related to Outdoor Recreation Participation ............. 362
Katharine A. Pawelko

Monitoring the Impacts of Visitors to Shorebird Populations in the NPS Coastal and Barrier Island Network Areas ................................................................. 373
Christopher A. Monz, Erica A. Young, Yu-Fai Leung

Cognitive Mapping: An Application for Trail Management .................................. 378
Samuel V. Lankford, Kathy Scholl, Robert Pfister, Jill Lankford, Albert Williams

A Comparison of the Perceived Relative Importance of Council on Accreditation
Curriculum Standards between Academicians and Public Park and Recreation
Administrators .............................................................................. 385
Eric L. Longsdorf

Identifying Issues with Local Recreation Providers for the 2004-2009 Indiana Scorp..... 390
Amy L. Shafer, Yi-Ling Sung

The Relationships among Leisure Resourcefulness and Recreation Specialization, among a Sample of Senior Adults ....................................................... 397
Jerry L. Ricciardi

Residents' Attitude Toward Tourist Market Segments and Tourism Development in Valdez, Alaska: A Comparison of Residents' Perceptions of Tourist Impacts on the Economy and Quality of Life .............................................................. 404
Christine A. Vogt, Soo Hyun Jun
Examining Specialization for a Fishing Subactivity: Is Activity and Place Specialization Better Understood at the Activity or Subactivity Level? .............................................. 412
Aurora Moldovan, Chad Pierikalla, Michael Schuett

PAPERS PRESENTED AT THE 2003 CONFERENCE
Who Participates in Fall-color Touring on Pleasure Trips? ........................................... 418
Seunghyun Kim, Chang Hub

Author Index ....................................................................................................................... 422