Dear friends -

I wonder how many of us, fourteen years ago, imagined that we would be celebrating the 13th annual New York State Green Building Conference? Yet here we are. Please join me in expressing appreciation to all who made the 13th NYS GBC a success – and please plan to join us next year! More

Please join me in congratulating our esteemed colleague, Dr. Tom Amidon, who received the Technology Alliance of Central New York's 2015 College Technology Educator of the Year award. More

Apparently our attempt to bring some joy to an otherwise long cold winter has generated some enthusiasm. Learn more on Facebook or at ESF's Summer Semester website. But please don't let the joyful approach distract you from the significant opportunities for ESF students – and students from other campuses to take an ESF Summer on-campus or field-experience course, including courses in Acadia National Park (Maine), Washington DC, Heiberg Forest, New York City, Martha's Vineyard, the Hudson River Watershed and elsewhere. Or the opportunity to Take ESF with You Wherever You Go through on online course. More

On behalf of the Brookhaven National Laboratory and the Research Foundation for the State University of New York (SUNY RF), please join us for the 2015 (7th annual) New York State Biotechnology Symposium. More
