<sup>2</sup> Gender Expression Non-Discrimination Act (GENDA) passed NYS Legislature, Jan 2019. SUNY Legal advised SUNY NOT subject to Public Buildings Law; SUNY Admin encouraged <sup>3</sup> better advertising single occupant spaces. 2021: NYS 8 NYCRR Part 317 now calls for all single stall to be . <sup>4</sup> Women's restrooms are still very undersized in multiple campus spaces; ESF requests maintaining some  for the moment. <sup>5</sup> Despite single stall, this is not a single occupant restroom

<sup>6</sup> Nursing Room. NYS law protects right to nurse wherever have the right to be. You are entitled to a private space to pump, 313 Bray meets state/federal standards for employer-provided space to express breastmilk (lockable, chair, counter, outlet, NOT a restroom). Conference rooms or office spaces can be arranged by individual users, or by the coordinator hosting their visit. More info: http://www.esf.edu/womenscaucus/faq.htm#Is\_ESF\_breastfeeding\_friendly

<sup>7</sup> General access to area limited, either to building or business hours
